Heads Give Green Light; Discuss Library, Dorms

Buildings were the topic of the day last Tuesday as the Board of Regents took action on the new library proposal, also Clinton Hall and Centennial Hall.

Go-ahead signal was given the Building Committee and the executive committee of the board for construction of a new library building. Pending approval of blueprints by the Board of Higher Education, the college trailer court will be relocated in February to make way for ground breaking in the spring.

Clinton Hall was sanctioned as the official name for the new men's dorm. The Board decided that Centennial Hall will keep its present name but new wings would receive individual titles. Students will be asked for suggestions for names.

No new resolution was made on the dancing question, but the Board of Regents decided to add a Philosophy Department head and a new field representative for the admissions work here as soon as possible.

Because the Student Memorial Union fee is not sufficient to cover the cost of upkeep, the Board of Regents also voted to give the SMU Council authority to charge fees for use of ping-pong, pool and other play equipment.

Third Program Of Year Features Young Virtuoso

By Marsha Starck

A young French virtuoso pianist, Philippe Entremont, who has skyrocketed to fame and worldwide attention within five years, will be heard in concert Dec. 1 at 8 p.m. in Knights Gymnasium. Entremont's appearance will be the third Artist Series presentation of the 1957-58 season.

The brilliant young Entremont is currently on his fourth American tour, which will be highlighted by appearances with the New York Philharmonic, the Minneapolis Symphony and the National Orchestra of Washington, D. C.

Musical Family

Coming from a musical family, Entremont was given his first piano lessons by his mother. When he was only 12 he began gathering prizes and awards from many famous piano competitions. At 19 Philippe made his first trip to the U.S. shores.

RCA Victor records sought out Entremont after the first, Kapell, comparison and signed an exclusive long-term contract. Entremont's first Victor Red Seal recording of the Tschai-kowsky Concerto will be released during his present tour.

Program Listed

Included on Entremont's Dec. 1 concert here will be "Sonata

in F Minor, Opus 57, Appassionata" by Beethoven, "Papillons, Opus 2," by Schumann and other compositions by Faure, Debussy, Ravel and Liszt.

In an age of fine young pianists, Entremont seems to fill a unique niche. He is in the tradition of the great virtuosi, and, as such, he has found an astoundingly warm welcome awaiting him in every part of the world.

Neumann Shown In Register Ad

Dr. G. J. Neumann, vice president of Wartburg College and head of the English Department, was recently given recognition in an ad entitled "Iowans of Achievement" which appeared in the Des Moines Register.

According to the article, Dr. Neumann's claim to fame is the more than 700 poems he has had published which make him an able candidate for the title "poet laureate of Iowa." Dr. Neumann estimated that he has written 25 times that number of poems, and he has also had 25 song lyrics and 8 books published, chiefly for children.

Since its beginning in 1930, Dr. Neumann has been a member of the Board of Publication of the American Lutheran Church and also serves as poetry editor for the Lutheran Standard.

No Paper?

After 12 consecutive issues, the Trumpet staff, along with the rest of the Student Body, takes a break. Result? No paper next week. Next issue, Dec. 7.

Campus Chest Schedule Set

"MY POCKETS may be just about empty and my clothes may be ragged," says Chester, "but what I have I'm giving to the Campus Chest drive." Chester is the symbol for the Wartburg College Campus Chest.

Senate Lists 7 Charities

Seven charities will be included in this year's Campus Chest Drive, the Student Senate decided Monday night.

Money gathered from solicitations will be divided percentage-wise among the following groups: Student Memorial Fund on campus, Lutheran Student Action program of the Lutheran Student Association of America, the Children's Home of Waverly, Bartels

Solem

Home for the Aged, Waverly, the American Korean Fund and Care packages. A seventh charity will be decided upon in the near future.

Operating under the theme of "Christian giving for Christian Living," the campaign will be conducted during the week of Dec. 2-9. Canvasses will be made in the dormitories and a letter will be sent to faculty members inviting them to take part in the campaign.

Speaking for the Chest committee, junior John Solem stated, "Christian stewardship will be emphasized in this year's campaign, with the hope that each person will give in the sense of helping others who are less fortunate than himself."

Other items discussed included the pop-concert sponsored by the Student Body and campus Christmas decorations.

Varied Fare For Convo

Forthcoming convocations include a Thanksgiving service, an address by Dr. Edwin Sandberg and a basketball session.

The Rev. A. G. Schardt of St. John Lutheran Church, Cedar Falls, will give the sermon at the Thanksgiving worship service Tuesday, and Wartburg Choir will sing.

First convo after vacation on Tuesday, Dec. 3, commemorates the William Blake Bicentennial with Dr. Sandberg of the English Department speaking on the subject "William Blake: The Mysteries of Vision."

The approaching basketball season will be ushered in on Thursday, Dec. 5, when head basketball coach Axel Bundgaard introduces that sport and the teams members to the Student Body.

ADMISSIONS WANT HELP OF STUDENTS

Wartburg students have an excellent opportunity to do public relations work for the college during Thanksgiving and Christmas vacations, announces Fred Thompson, admissions director.

By talking to high school students about Wartburg, inviting them to visit the campus and securing names for mailing lists, students can greatly aid the Admissions Department. Catalogs, brochures and other information may be obtained from Thompson.

Ia. Brotherhood Here On Feb. 11

Wartburg campus will be the scene of the annual meeting of the Iowa District Brotherhood Institute Feb. 11. Judge Henry M. Graven will speak to the group and at convocation.

Tickets?

Tickets for the Entremont Concert, Dec. 1, will go on sale in the treasurer's office Monday morning, Nov. 25, at 9 a.m. They will be on sale Monday and Tuesday during regular office hours. Students must present activity cards.

Choir Concert Here Sunday

Wartburg Choir, under the direction of Dr. Edwin Liemohn, will present its annual concert Sunday at 8 p.m. in the Knights Gymnasium.

Soprano Sharon Folkerts and Tenor Ronald Mastin will sing solo parts in "Benedictus" by E. Paladilhe. Mastin will also sing a solo part in "Den Store Hvide Flok Vi Soe," a Danish folk hymn. Keith Lunde will sing a baritone solo in "Father Most Holy," arranged by F. M. Christiansen.

Also included on the program are "Come, Jesu, Come" by J. S. Bach, "Crucifixus" by Antonio Lotti, "I am the Resurrection and the True Life" by Heinrich Schuetz and "Domine Quid Multiplicati" by Orlando di Lasso.

Continuing will be two movements from "Mass in the Aeolian Mode" by Dr. Liemohn himself, "O Lamm Gottes Unschuldig," a choral from 1540, "Sing We Merrily Unto God," written by Martin Shaw, and two movements from "Advent Motet" by Gustav Schreck.

The three optional selections will include "The Three Kings," an old Catalonian Nativity song, "Be Ye Joyful, Earth and Sky," a Bohemian carol, and "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," arranged by Dr. Liemohn.

Now Thank We—Or Do We?

With vacation but a few days away, student thoughts are turning from textbooks to turkeys. It's time for the yearly American custom of Thanksgiving — the day we pause for a few moments to count up the numerous blessings which are so richly enjoyed.

It means a little longer prayer before dinner. It's going to church during the week in addition to Sunday.

But how thankful are we?

There is a superabundance of pious words giving thanks to the Almighty for numerous gifts and blessings. It's generally not a case of being willing to say a few words of thanks during the Thanksgiving season.

There's an old cliché about words being cheap. That is quite true. It's easy to give words of thanks. It is a simple matter to bow the head and murmur a few sentences of prayer.

But another expression of triteness proclaims "Deeds, not words." And that is exactly where the Wartburg student gets his opportunity to demonstrate his thankfulness.

When school commences after the holiday layoff, the Wartburg College Campus Chest starts its drive. Each student will be given an opportunity to show how thankful he actually is.

Theme for the stewardship drive is "Christian Giving for Christian Living." The charities cover a wide range and provide a definite outlet for campus charity.

If Wartburg students are truly thankful as they claim to be, this will provide the opportunity for them to show it. If they aren't, then save the vain repetitions when next Thursday comes.

Hey, Take It Easy — Please

Wednesday Wartburg students start a mass exodus from Waverly for Thanksgiving vacation. Cars of all sizes, shapes and makes will be loaded to capacity as students leave for all parts of the Midwest.

As the vacation is comparatively brief, there'll be a desire to get home as quickly as possible. But just a word of caution: Take it easy.

Roads may be snow-covered and icy. Driving conditions may be hazardous. No one is ever in such a rush that he can't slow down.

So — take it easy. After all, Christmas vacation starts in about three weeks and you'll want to be back, so that you can go home for that!

FOOTNOTES TO FAITH

Dickman Attacks Apathy; Need More Than Science

By Dennis Dickman

Our prevailing attitude of complacency, which to a great extent dominates our American way of life, has been dealt a severe blow, at least in the scientific area, by the recent ascension of the two famed Russian satellites. Reactions have been varied, but there is general consent that more emphasis should be placed on scientific scholarship and development.

Many proposals have been advanced as remedial agents, including the erection of a greater number of technical schools and inducing more young men to enter this particular field of study.

But must this awakening come only in the scientific field? Certainly the cloud of complacency which also hovers over the other areas of American life, including the spiritual and intellectual, must be lifted if the world is going to benefit fully.

The crying need of science is not only more technical knowledge, but rather a conscience to accompany these great advances. We have developed power, particularly the power to destroy, which far surpasses our discretion in using this tremendous energy. Only the extent to which the love of Christ in our lives increases our love and concern for the welfare of our fellow man will this discretion be realized.

Scientific study is important and at the present time critical, but a nation can also collapse as a result of immorality and ignorance. Some of us are scientifically inclined and will want seriously to consider this field, but the contribution others can make as ministers, teachers, professional men and even parents is every bit as important. And let us never forget that we as Christians can make the greatest contribution in making this world a better place in which to live.

Sword Points

By The Staff

THIS WEEK'S snowstorm proves that the game of love is never called by bad weather, as witnessed on the steps of Centennial and Wartburg Halls during the worst part of the blizzard.

ADDITIONAL THINGS to be thankful for:
No classes on Saturday.
Convo could be three times a week.
You could be director of the Christmas play.

HELPFUL WARNING to Wartburg students traversing the snow-packed sidewalks: "Be on guard or you'll be on end."

IT LOOKED as though graduation had come early last Tuesday when students were forced to march to convo single file in the snow path.

MEANEST PERSON in the world: Professor who forgets to tell his eight o'clock section that he will be out of town the next morning.

QUESTIONS FOR THE WEEK: Does Waverly have a leash law?
Why isn't it enforced?

MORE QUESTIONS: Is there a snowplow on campus?
Where is it?

There's a book in the library called Bartlett's "Book of Familiar Quotations." This book seems to have cornered the market on this type of publication. It's unfair, especially in light of the fact that the author leaves so many out. I propose a Wartburg book of quotations — something like this:

"You'll have to clear it through Ax's office."
"Now let's be specific."
"Just what happened to Dr. Carr?"
"This course is a snap. Took it last year without cracking a book."
"Of course, I'm twenty-one."
"Two credits short of graduation?"
"Close ranks and carry on."
"Term paper? It's not due until day after tomorrow."
"Well, when do you think you'll have the rest of the money?"
"As chairman of the Convocations Committee, I . . ."
"A mass cut? Why, I never heard of such a thing."

And again the first snow of the school year gets here a little early. It isn't due until this Wednesday when Thanksgiving vacation starts.

Even if you do make it home on time, chances are you'll never get back in time for the Artist Series on Sunday night. Artist Series? During vacation?

You're always hearing somebody complain about how a college student grows old before his time. He is always hurrying to class in the morning, gulping his food down, and proceeding from one activity to another.

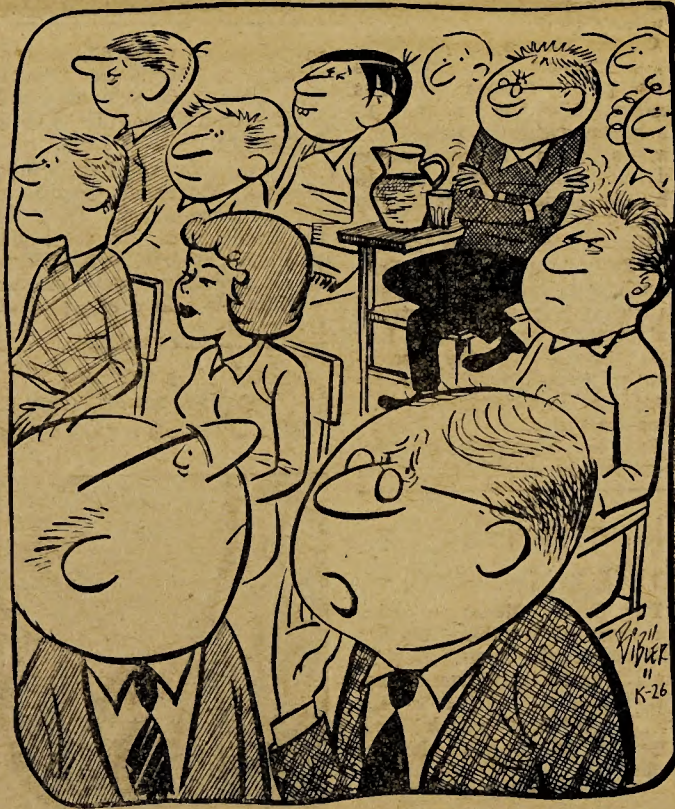

You'd think the college would disapprove of such action. On the contrary — it sets up a 10-minute parking rule in front of Centennial Hall.

Word has it that last week's story in the Trumpet about Mr. Kronquist is no longer true. Somebody didn't hear the cry, "Man on third!"

Pity the plight of my roommate, who gets my vote for the world's most miserable man. He had to celebrate his 21st birthday in a hospital bed. Of course, maybe it's not too bad. It was also the first time Oppie came to see him instead of vice versa.

660 Open Mouths For Caf

By Linda Mugridge

As Thanksgiving draws near, a young man's (and a young woman's) fancy lightly turns to thoughts of food. Thoughts of food, however, are everyday occurrences to Mrs. Henry Grube, cafeteria manager.

Since she began her cafeteria work here 14 years ago, Mrs. Grube has planned countless meals for countless college students. The characters and the scene have shifted, but the appetites remain the same.

The cafeteria switch from North Hall to the new Student Memorial Union two years ago provided more room and new equipment for the cafeteria crew. Another change for the preparers of food was the increase of hungry students from 180 in 1943 to 660 in 1957.

All Ate There

"In those days there was hardly any commuting, and everybody ate in the cafeteria," said Mrs. Grube.

Cafeteria eating from the diner's viewpoint has also changed. Last year dinner music was added to cafeteria fare, and Wednesday night dress-up was instituted.

Now diners no longer traipse up to the window with their trays, as they did last year. Breakage of dishes by strong-armed students was the reason for this innovation, according to the cafeteria manager.

Nutritional needs are the basis of the meals planned by Mrs. Grube. Variety, particularly in the vegetable department, is a problem.

No Caviar?

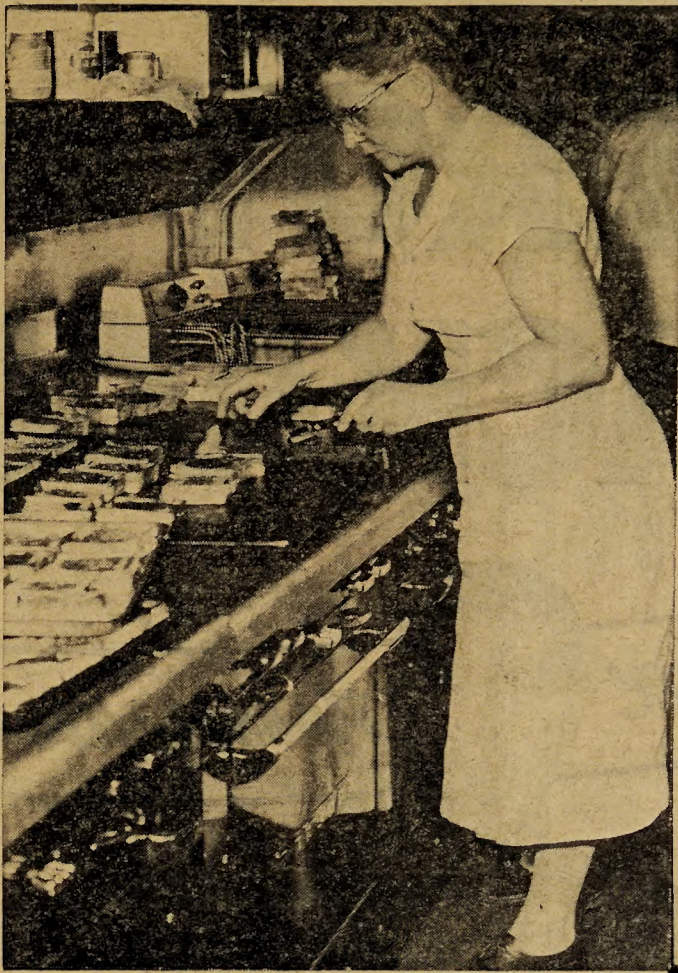

Commenting on catering to students' tastes, Mrs. Grube said, "If we served caviar, somebody wouldn't like it."

Consumption of the more ordinary foods keeps rolling along. Between 300 and 350 pounds of potatoes are used each day, 22 gallons of ice cream are lapped up at one meal, and 55 dozen ice cream bars are eaten at a single serving.

Each morning between 78 and 84 dozen rolls are groggily downed. More students go to breakfast on Tuesdays and Thursdays than on other days. Breakfast attendance is scantiest over the weekend.

Nine Working

All the food except the rolls and bread is prepared by Mrs. Grube and her staff, which includes nine women, who work either part-time or full-time. Approximately eighty students working from 2 to 20 hours a week assist them.

WITH OVER six-hundred hungry mouths to feed each day, cafeteria manager Mrs. Henry Grube finds her job a busy one.

"The kids are good," said Mrs. Grube. "If you tell them what to do, they'll do it for you."

Over the years many funny happenings have been experienced by the cafeteria staff. The lemon extract that went into the salad dressing instead of vinegar and the tablecloth that was mixed into the whipped cream are not everyday occurrences, however.

Thanksgiving means vacation to the students, but to the cafeteria crew it means only a lightening of the load. Mrs. Grube will prepare food for the Wartburg-bound students, just as she has served classes of Knights and Knighties in the past.

Yule Season Events Set

It may be Thanksgiving season now, but thoughts of Christmas are already in the minds of Wartburg's Yule planners.

Biggest attraction of the holiday season at college will be the annual "Christmas at Wartburg" production to be held Sunday evening, Dec. 15 at eight in Knights Gymnasium.

Chairman of the event is H. C. Engelbrecht, business manager. Serving on the committee with him are C. Robert Larson, Music Department; Norm Fintel, public relations and Mrs. Florence Hertlein, Economics Department.

Included on the program will be selections by the Wartburg Choir, Dr. Edwin Liemohn, director; Castle Singers, conducted by Dr. E. A. Hovdesven and the Wartburg Concert Band, directed by Ernest Hagen.

Featuring the theme "Holy Night," the program will feature sets designed by Miss Helen Wright, head of the Art Department.

In keeping with tradition, residents of the surrounding towns have been invited. There will be no admission charge for this, Wartburg's gift to the community.

Also included on the Christmas schedule is Chi Rho's Candlelight service, which will be held Monday evening, Dec. 16, in Knights Gym.

LET'S MEET FRIENDS

Not Much Doing; Vacation Coming

With Thanksgiving vacation (where have I heard that before?) in the offing, our thoughts are turning to where to meet our friends—at home. Maybe as a consequence, scheduled meetings on campus are at a minimum.

Initiates of APO will meet their "judges" on Sunday. Sophomores Kathryn Koob and Melba Neumann along with senior Henry Flessner will be doing their best to pass the test at 7:30 p.m. in the APO room of the Little Theater.

Frenz Choir tour is over, but the music isn't. We'll all get a chance to hear the concert this Sunday evening at 8—Knights Gym, of course.

Monday, tickets for the Artist Series will go on sale. You have to be back for Monday classes, anyway, so why not come back in time for the concert? You all know, of course, that the concert is the Sunday evening that we get back from vacation?

Bible Discussion groups on Sunday at 9 as usual. And maybe more of us should meet our friends in evening chapel....

I warned you that there was little doing, so

Billy: Scientist in 1988?

Billy's a bright, likeable kid. Seems as though he's always puttering around his basement doing experiments with his chemistry set. You might say he's the neighborhood's budding young scientist.

Yes, Billy could probably be a famous scientist some day. But right now, his chances are pretty slim.

In Billy's community there is a scarcity of classrooms, of teachers, and of good textbooks. Result? Billy is short-changed on his schooling.

Let's be sure that this doesn't happen to the children in our schools. Join with other good citizens to back up our School Board. Make it a point to attend PTA meetings and school conferences.

Recital Offered For Thanksgiving

A voice and piano recital will be presented on Tuesday in the choral rehearsal room, Fine Arts Center, at 7:30 p.m.

Among those participating in the program are mezzo-soprano Sharon Jacobsen, senior, singing "Secrecy" by Wolf; Marilyn Nissen, sophomore, singing "Man Is for the Woman Made" by Purcell; and soprano Carolyn Sehardt, sophomore, singing "Care Selve" by Handel.

Continuing with the program will be contralto Anne von Fischer, senior, singing "The Green River" by Carpenter; Duane Anunson, junior, singing "Phyllis Has Such Charming Graces" by Young and Wilson. Fred Langrock, junior, will play "Il Penseroso" by Heller on the piano, and Darwin Otto, freshman, will play "To a Sky-scraper" by Thompson.

Position Wanted?

Graduates interested in securing a position for next year should stop at the registrar's office before Thanksgiving vacation, according to Miss Mattie Harms, registrar.

Staff To St. Louis

Pres. C. H. Becker; Norman Fintel, public relations director; the Rev. Martin Ackermann, development director; and Fred Thompson, admissions director, will attend a convention in St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 1-3.

The American College Public Relations Association and the American Alumni Council are holding a joint district meeting, which is also open to development personnel. Fintel is program chairman for the public relations and development section, and Thompson will participate in a panel discussion.

Knights End Year With 5-4 Record

By Duane Schroeder

A two-year drought ended for the Wartburg gridiron Knights this year. Winding up the season with a 5-4 overall record, the Jomen won more games this year than in the previous two years combined.

Head Coach Norm Johansen can sit back and reflect about his pre-season predictions with a bit more ease now. Before the Iowa Conference campaign got under way, he said that the Knights would improve over last season. They did by five games.

Statistics show that next year things should be even better. There is only one junior in the cumulative totals, and the rest are freshmen and sophomores.

Sophomore Jack McClelland, quarterback, wound up the season as the Jomen's second best passer with 13 completions in 29 pass attempts for 139 yards. One of his aeriels was good for a TD.

Another sophomore, fullback Larry Raper, finished first in rushing with 415 yards in 107 games, second in total offense with 415 yards, and first in scoring with five touchdowns. Despite all this, Raper missed three games because of injuries. Chuck Nichol, sophomore halfback, scored four times to finish second in scoring.

But the real story was the freshmen. Tom Van Wynn-garden, halfback, picked up 271 yards on the ground in 49 carries. Highlighting his debut as a Knight ground-gainer was his 78-yard scoring jaunt against Dubuque in Wartburg's Homecoming clash.

Marv Ott, quarterback, was Johansen's top passer and total yard gainer despite the fact that he missed four games. An ambidextrous thrower, he tossed 63 passes, completing 27 for 437 yards. He picked up 14 yards on the ground for a total of 451 yards.

Glue-fingered Dave Jensen, halfback, was Ott's favorite receiver, gathering in 18 aeriels for 245 yards and two TDs. He sat out three contests because of injuries.

Wayne Dreier, halfback, solved Johansen's punting problems by booting 46 for 1,648 yards. Only one was blocked.

One of the main reasons for the Knights' success this year was depth. Despite the numerous injuries and the flu bug, the Knights had freshmen Gary Queck, fullback, Leroy Boseneiler, quarterback, and seniors Ralph Wolken, halfback, and Nellie Bose, halfback, to come off the bench to fill in.

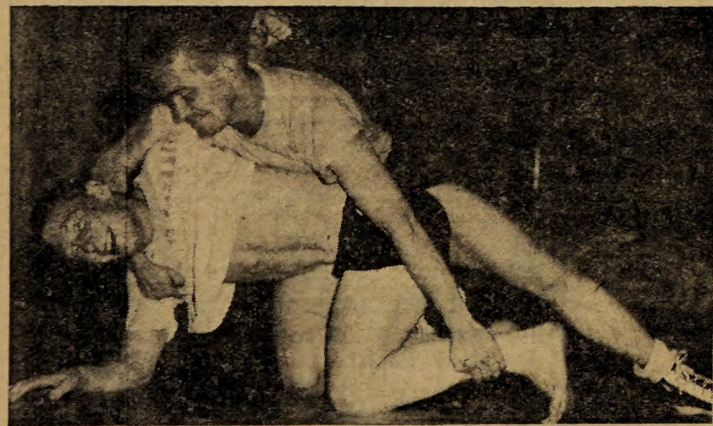

Helping the Knights take advantage of the extra-point chores was freshman Denny Krominga, who put nine out of ten through the uprights.

Wartburg not only had a powerful offense but also one of the best defensive clubs in the league. The rock-ribbed line, anchored by Arnie Brandt, senior, Ron Krueger, sophomore, and Roger Klingman, senior, put its best effort against Dubuque when the Spartans were held to a minus-three total offense for the afternoon.

Matmen Start Workouts; 9 Lettermen Come Back

"OVER HE GOES" says Norm Friedrichs as he prepares to show Jack Brannon the lights during a session of mat practice in the Knights Gym wrestling room.

Hours of sweating, dislocated joints and strict diets face 20 Knight wrestling candidates as they prepare for the 1957-58 campaign.

Norm Johansen, head of the matsters, has nine lettermen returning to form the nucleus of this year's squad. Waverly senior Arnie Brandt, all-time master of Wartburg mats, who has won 42 consecutive dual meets, will be eligible for the first semester only.

Chellevoid Back

Heading the list of other returnees is "guillotine specialist" Dick Chellevoid. The Waverly junior suffered only one defeat in dual competition last season.

Eugene Oltrogge, Tripoli, a 157-pounder, and Arno Frerichs, Owatonna, Minn., at 147, are two returning vets who were mainstays last year. Both have advanced in weight this season.

Lyle Wilharm and Fred Downing, another pair of Waverly products, are former lettermen who didn't wrestle last season, but will be on the mats this year. Gerry Meyer, Plymouth, Neb., a numeral winner last season, will be back to bolster the attack.

Brye In Heavyweight

Heavyweight Bruce Brye of Waverly and lightweight Norm Friedrichs of Fort Dodge will make up the "beef and bounce" in the '57-'58 roster.

This year's mat men will be out to match or better last season's record of eight wins and one loss. Dubuque administered the only blotch on last year's slate, defeating the Knights by a two-point margin.

First competition for the local grapplers will be in the Iowa State Teachers invitational tournament Dec. 7.

Adix Keeping On The Ball

By Bill Melvin

First year Student Body President but fourth year basketball regular spells John Adix, Wartburg's duo-talented student government leader and athlete.

Stepping into the Wartburg athletic picture during the Knights' drive to the Iowa Conference championship in the 1954-55 season, John had a job cut out for him — to fill the shoes of Bob and Bill Adix. John's two cousins held practically every basketball record in Knight annals at that time.

Up To The Job

And Cousin John was up to the job. Bob was still around that season, and John joined with him to form a strong nucleus for the championship team.

Exploiting an accurate fade-away jump shot from the deep sides and corners during his first two seasons, John was a virtually unguarded forward. Last year, however, when Coach Ax Bundgaard needed strength in the back court, the talented Adix moved to guard and helped the Knights to another successful season and an NCAA Tournament bid.

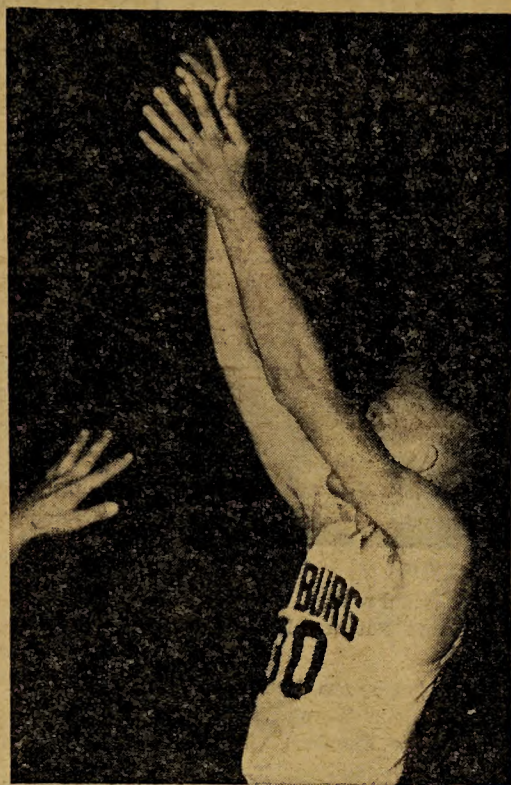

Hits For 200

Last year in conference play John banged home an even 200 points for a 12.5 average in the Knights' even-balanced scoring machine that set seven new school marks.

Thinking back over his four years of competition in the rugged Iowa Conference, John remarked, "It will be just as tough as ever this year."

"But," he added, "I think we got as good a chance as anybody to win the conference."

Since Student Body President can be only a one-year position, John Adix will long be remembered at Wartburg as the man who did the maximum job at two important positions, student government and basketball.

AN UNATTACHED hand attempts to stop John Adix's deadly overhead jump shot.

Carver's Takes First Place On Lanes; Schlichting Leads Series With 552

Carver's regained first position in the Wartburg bowling league, moving ahead of Ritchie Pontiac once again in the see-saw battle for top spot.

Mel Schlichting topped the keggers with a 552 series and rolled a 201 for second best game. Jim Boyenga turned in the top individual game with a 202 and carded a 519 score for reserve honors in that department.

Best Team Oberheu

Oberheu's chalked up the best team game of the night with an 806, while Carver's walked off with No. 1 team series, registering a 2,183.

With the completion of the IM football season, it was Cotta House finishing in first place. The Raiders bulldozed over all opposition, scoring 166 points on the way to an undefeated season. Big Fred Jaspers led the team with a 15.6-yard rushing average and scored 63 points.

The football season was hindered by a week of flu, followed by bad weather. Denny Wessels, head of the grid program, stated that student interest declined during this period, but that students must be complimented for their co-operation in the program. IM officials were particularly pleased with the prompt payment of dues by participants.

Wessels Says . . .

"We hope that the same student interest will be shown throughout the year in the program."

Coming events for the IM program include men's volleyball, basketball, coed volleyball, wrestling and ping-pong as winter activities. Next spring's action will feature softball, archery, tennis, golf and track.

Norse Beat Jomen

Knights closed out their grid season with a 25-13 loss to Brad Hustad, sophomore halfback, and the Luther Norsemen.

Wartburg jumped off to an early 6-0 lead in the first quarter on an eight-yard pass from freshman halfback Tom VanWynn-garden to senior halfback Nelson Bose. Alan Fedge, senior fullback, tied it up in the second quarter with a 26-yard race to pay-dirt, and Luther went ahead when senior Lew Hoy split the up-rights with his left toe.

With Brad Hustad carrying the ball for five yards, the Norse pulled ahead 13-6 with time running out in the first half. The conversion was blocked and the Knights, taking the ball on the kickoff, took to the air, and Larry Raper punctured the middle of the Luther line for two yards and six points with seconds remaining in the first half. Darwin Fritz, senior end, tied the ball game up 13-13.

In the second half Brad Hustad dove in from the one, and then broke the Knights' back with a 45-yard skirt around end.

Bundgaard Looks For Good Season

WITH HIS EYE on the bucket, big John Tuecke gets set to sink a hook as defensive man Fred Jaspers does his best to stop him.

By Charles Maahs

Wartburg fans can look ahead to watching another capable and spirited basketball team. Coach Ax Bundgaard has assembled a well-balanced squad with real potential.

At present, he is introducing some new offensive patterns. He is still experimenting, trying to find a cohesive unit with height and speed.

"We have an overall good squad this year," commented Ax, "with every boy hustling to play."

This is the squad and the men who will lance the cords for Wartburg this year.

John Adix: 6'2" poised senior, who is a fixture at guard. A consistent performer with exceptional desire. Polished in all phases of defense and offense. A three-year letterman and team ballplayer.

Fred Jaspers: 6'3" senior — big, rough, tough, grisly, rugged, tenacious, lionhearted, savage, dashing, insatiable rebounder with tremendous speed for his size. Fred is very spirited and has a fine two-hand set shot.

Mel Frahm: 6'5" senior — An underestimated ballplayer, who uses his height to good advantage under the boards. Mel is sound on defense and scores on a patented left hook.

John Tuecke: 6'7" sophomore — A much improved player over last year. His biggest asset is his ability to shoot with deadly accuracy from the outside. He has tremendous potential.

Wayne Slack: 6'3" junior — A smooth ballhandler, who displays the best unorthodox, fadeaway jump shot on the team. A hot and cold shooter who likes to slack off. Likes to shoot a hook shot.

Gil Wessel: 6'2" junior — Steady stalwart whose forte is a lethal end-line jump shot. Gil has a good scoring touch and is an excellent free-throw shooter.

Denny Wessels: 5'9" junior — A pugnacious defender who is exceptionally effective on a press defense. A good ballhandler and a fearless driver.

Up From JV:

John Mehlihaus: 6'3" forward — A standout on last year's freshman team.

Norm Remmers: 6'4" center — Most improved player on the team.

Jim Schwarz: 6'0" guard — An accurate jump shooter, who needs defensive work.

Duwayne Carnes: 6'0" guard — A promising and steady ballplayer.

Bill Riggle: 5'10" guard — A fast improving player with lots of desire and hustle.

Other Candidates:

Dave Jensen: 6'0" freshman — Speed and overall ability should help the team.

Dick Gard: 5'9" — Pesky ballhawk with a fine two-hand jump shot.

John Luthro: 6'1" — Transfer from Eagle Grove Junior College.

Roger Klingman: 6'4" — A hustler and stickler who can be counted on to help.

Picking Up Splinters

By Wilbur Flachman

Wartburg's 1957 football schedule ran out just in time. Old Man Winter laid a heavy white blanket on the field in front of Schield Stadium to protect it until green grass brings thoughts of a new season.

Sealed also are the memories of the performances by this year's Knights. Ten years from now, people may look back at the '57 record of five wins and four losses and not consider it outstanding.

Those who witnessed the Jomen in action this season can regard it as a supreme achievement in view of the inexperience of the team. Maybe this year wasn't a complete recovery from the two previous anemic years, but the Knights showed that football at Wartburg has at least regained its feet, and gives an indication for the future.

So the Wartburg athletic scene moves to the warm confines of Knights Gymnasium, where Coaches Ax Bundgaard and Bob Campbell are drilling their cagers for the approaching basketball season, and Norm Johansen has his grapplers shedding pounds for the coming wrestling slate.

Each year college officials change and rearrange basketball rules, so that it's profitable for fans to equip themselves with a rule book before attempting to follow America's fastest team sport.

Eby Ousted? IC Seeks A New Leader

Iowa Conference officials will meet today in Cedar Rapids to decide what to do about the vacancy of the conference commissioner's position.

The group will choose between appointing a new commissioner or governing the conference with a committee of representatives from the nine league schools.

Eby Ousted?

It was announced yesterday that past Commissioner Moray L. Eby, a Cedar Rapids sporting goods distributor, was ousted from his position. Eby's actual release came last spring following the May meeting of conference officials at Decorah.

Dr. Elmer Hertel of Wartburg, secretary of the Iowa Conference, stated that the release resulted from confusion between the executive committee of the conference and the conference presidents. Under the impression that the presidents' group wanted Eby released, a committee reportedly asked the commissioner to resign.

Out In Spring

The May 18 Trumpet carried a story of Eby's resignation and release, the day after the loop meeting last spring. Since that time the conference has been governed by the executive committee.

Representing Wartburg at the meeting today will be Hertel, Ax Bundgaard, Earnest Oppermann and Norm Johansen, Phy. Ed. Department. Pres. C. H. Becker will attend the college presidents meeting in connection with the conference gathering.

Other action on the agenda for the conference officials includes selection of the all-conference football teams.

Here are a few of the major rule changes to prepare you for the time when December rolls around and the Knights take the basketball floor:

College rule-makers have made it illegal for a player to touch the ball while it is within the imaginary cylinder above the basket rim. This rule applies to defensive and offensive players and includes both shots and rebounds. Violation results in loss of the ball. Such a call is strictly a referee's judgment decision.

The 15-foot restraining line has been removed under the baskets along the end lines, so cagers will be able to put the sphere in play directly beneath the hoops. Any ball that passes over the top of the bank board, either from the front or the back, results in loss of the ball.

Here is a rule that will cramp the style of a couple of last season's Iowa Conference opponents. In case of stalling, the defensive team is subject to a technical foul call for not pushing the offense. Again this decision is termed as an arbitrary judgment on the part of the referee.

Probably the most complex change to keep up with this season will be the free throw alterations. A team is allowed six fouls a half before the opposition receives the bonus toss on foul shots. Fouls committed while a player is in the act of shooting still calls for two gift shots and are included in the six violations. Therefore, on the seventh foul shot in each half, a player will get the bonus toss. So any combination of types of fouls that adds up to six makes the new rule applicable. Confusing? You said it!

Axmen Face Auggies 1st

By Wilbur Flachman

Wartburg Knights will raise the curtain on the 1957 basketball season Tuesday, Dec. 3. Coach Ax Bundgaard's cagers will make their debut in Minneapolis Armory, meeting the Augsburg Auggies in a 7:30 contest.

The Augsburg contest will be the only non-conference encounter for the Knights before beginning loop action. Simpson Redmen will be in Waverly Dec. 7 to inaugurate the Iowa Conference schedule.

Augsburg Opens

Augsburg, comparable to Wartburg in size with an enrollment of nine hundred students, has been the opening opponent for the Knights the past two seasons. Wartburg won last year's contest 80-66, but dropped a 102-96 game as guest of the Auggies two years ago.

The Minneapolis school lost four seniors from last year's squad. Big guns for the Auggies this season figure to be Richard Green and Dick Robinson, a pair of senior guards, both grads of Minneapolis high schools. Augsburg coach is Earnest Anderson, a 1937 grad of that institution.

Starters Doubtful

Bundgaard has not yet picked his starting lineup for the season opener, but he has seven returning lettermen from whom to make his selections. Vets back are seniors John Adix, Denver, Colo., Fred Jaspers, Kensett, and Mel Frahm,avenport; juniors Gil Wessel, Waverly, Denny Wessels, Independence, and Wayne Slack, Waterloo. Only soph numeral winner last season was John Tuecke, Garnaville.

Bundgaard could put one of the tallest teams in Wartburg's history on the floor this season. Tuecke, 6'6", Frahm, 6'5", Jaspers, 6'4", and Adix, 6'2", are all likely starters for the Knights.

Luther Finishes On Top

Luther Norseman won the Iowa Conference championship yesterday at Decorah, trouncing Parsons 28-0.

The powerful Norse ground attack riddled the Wildcat line for 474 yards, as Brad Hustad, Luther's great fullback racked up 117 yards to finish the season as the no. 1 rusher in the United States.
